1．Outline

This remote control unit is a radio formula and is used combining the receiver. Two types of wireless and wired are prepared, so you can choose according to the installation environment.

A direct function does not assign to each switch of the RC-448, but a function is performed by choosing the key-menu displayed on a screen.
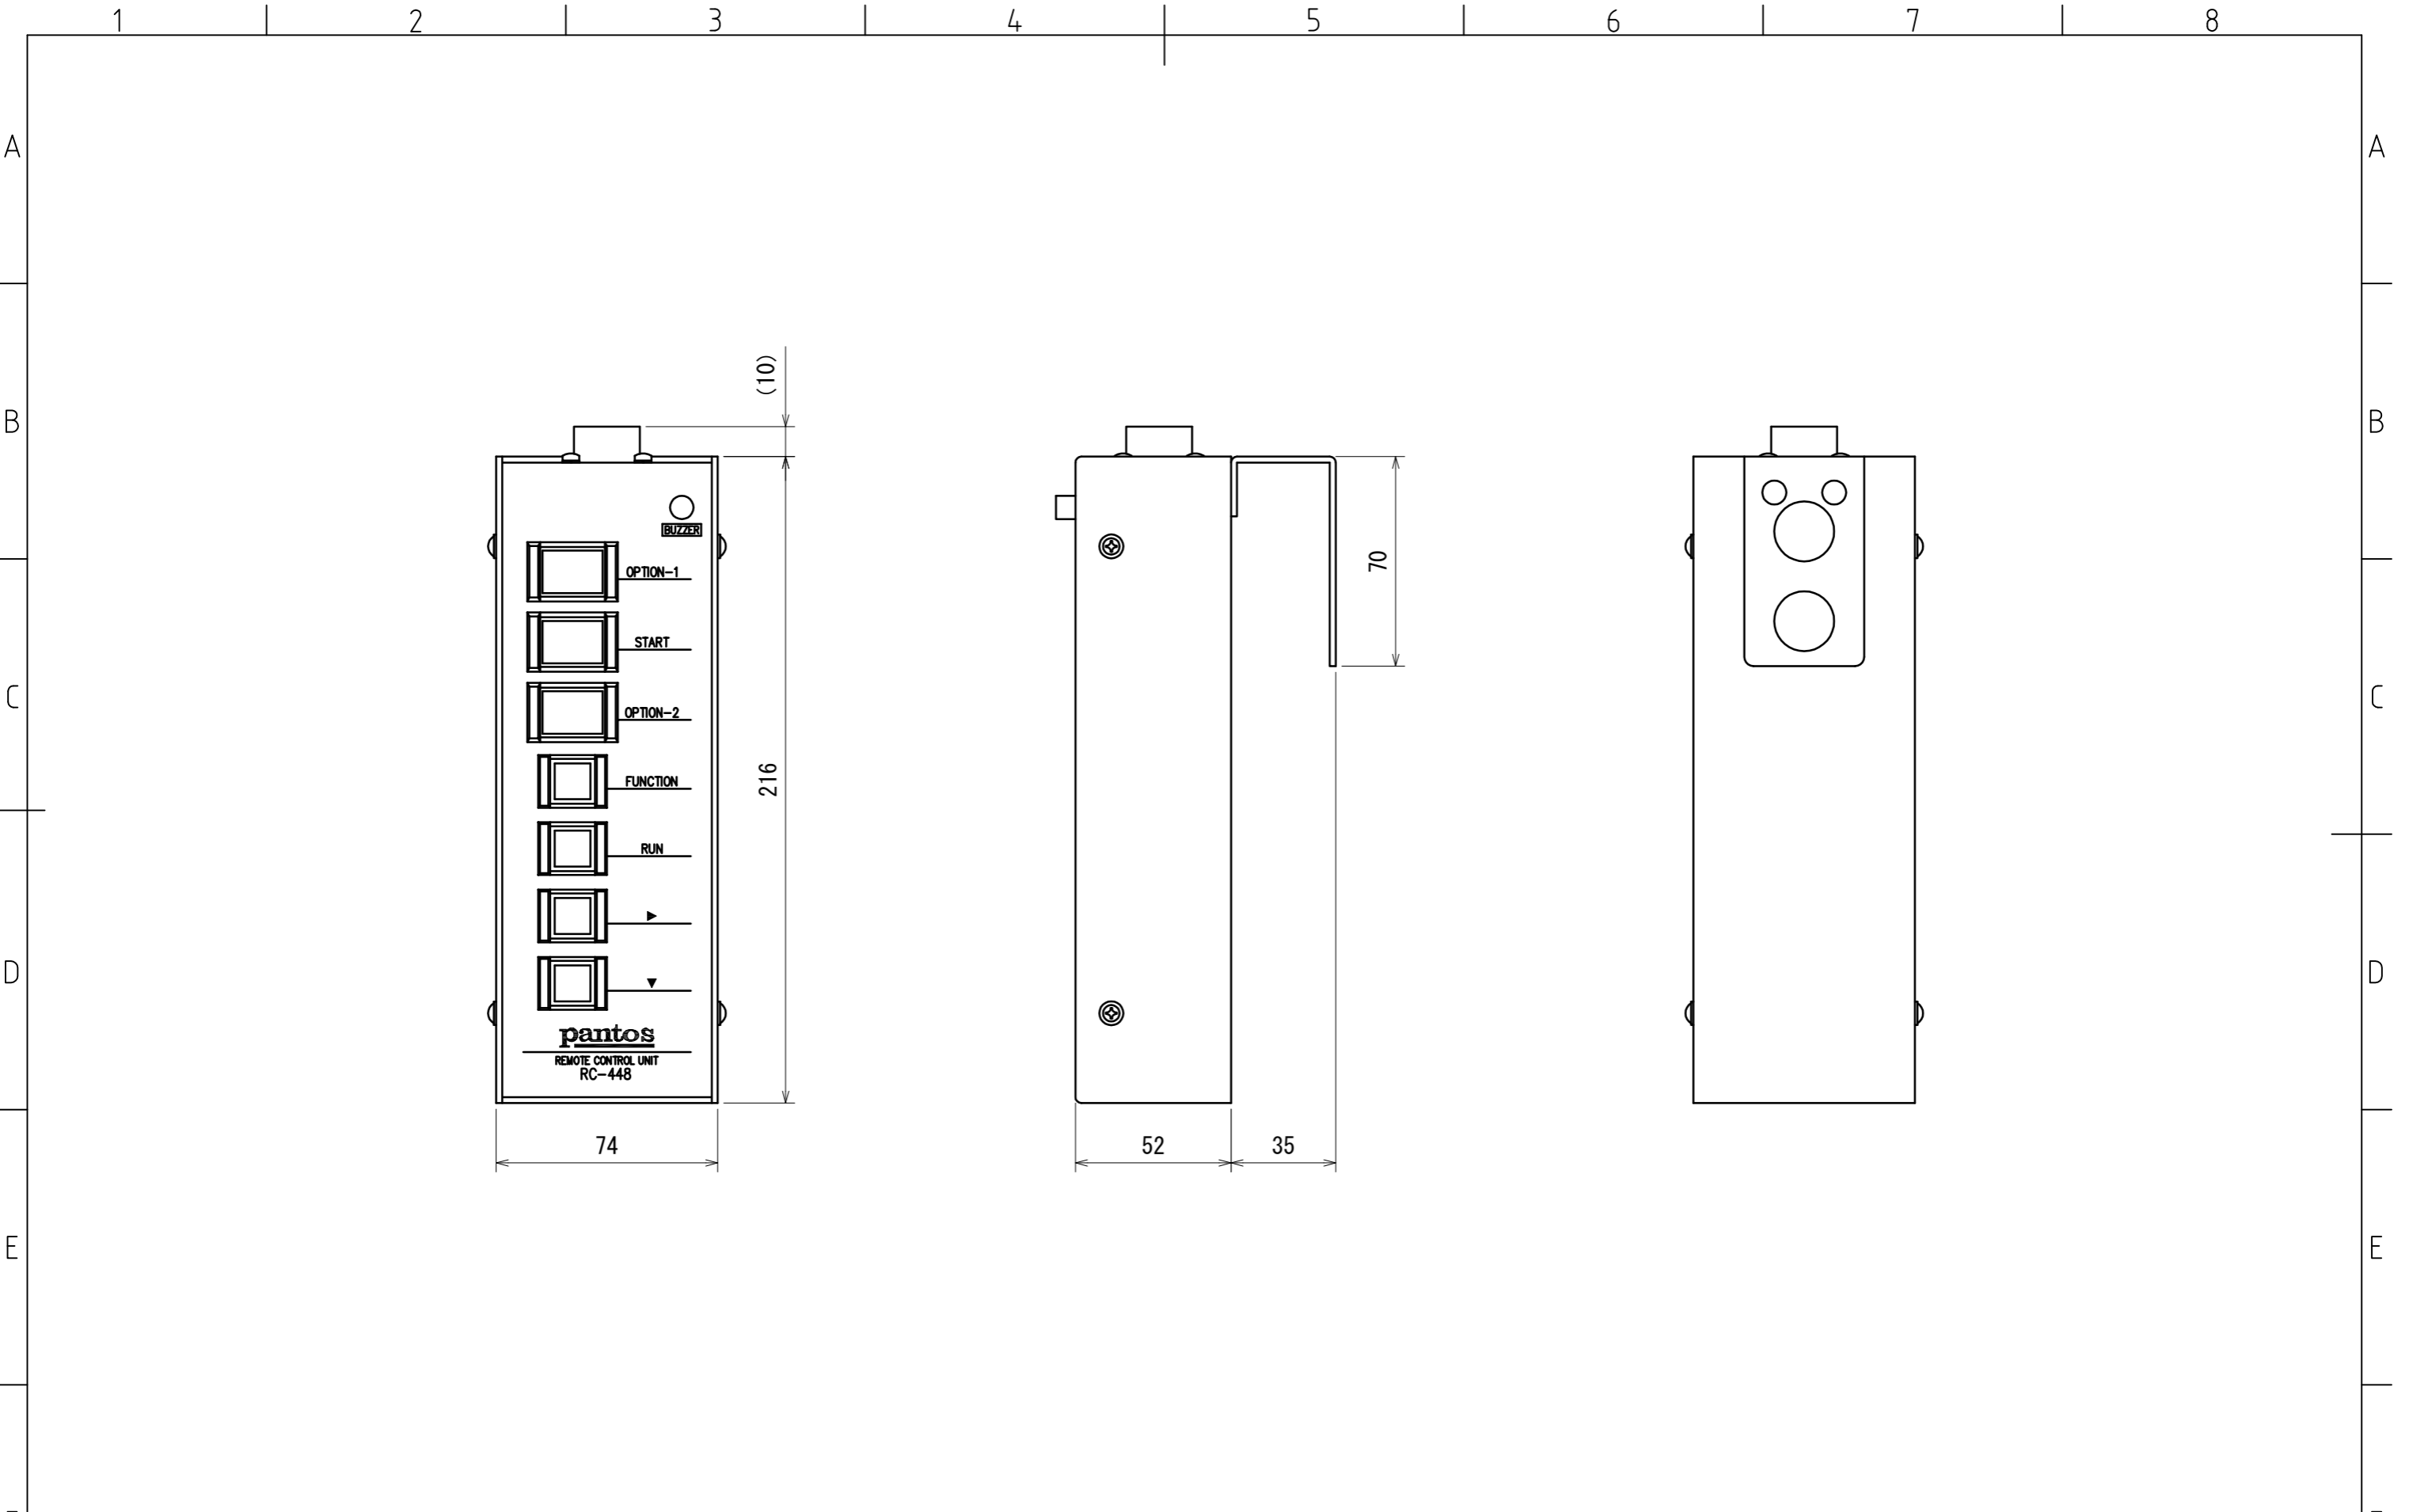

This remote control unit can perform all functions, without using the operation switch of the receiver.

Since this remote control unit omits taking measure against low and high temperature , be careful of employment.
